Latin and English

Undying Rivalry

JOHN J. DOYLE
Latin Head Master

The interscholastic football game has become part of America's observance of the Thanksgiving holiday. Throughout this bountiful and prosperous land, students and alumni unite in cheering their teams to victory.

For today's game is the season's principal objective. Weeks of intensive preparation by drill squads culminate in a superlative effort today.

Teamwork is the order of the day, as individuals forego personal ambition for applause, giving their utmost for their team and their school. The entire student body is caught up in a wave of enthusiastic, wholesome activity. Turkey Day — in its athletic aspects, at least — presents a national picture of youth at its constructive, unselfish, self-controlled best.

Locally, traditions are both numerous and fine. Boston likes to reflect on traditions, and she is proud of them . . . the athletic rivalry, for instance, between Latin School and English High. Two reasons can readily be cited to justify Boston's pride in this Thanksgiving morning football rivalry. The first has to do with the present setting; the second, with the exemplary sportsmanship displayed.

Older alumni will remember the B.L.S.-E.H.S. struggles fought each year on the well-churned, oozing turf of Boston's big-league baseball parks. Long ago, the thought had occurred to a few wistful sons of the two schools that a schoolboy ivy game reserved an ivy setting.

Head Master Walter F. Downey, of English, conferred with Head Master Joseph L. Powers, of Latin, about the chances of a salutary change of scene for the annual football game. They petitioned for the use of the Harvard Stadium. Harvard granted their petition. The thrilling 1944 encounter was played on this hallowed ground, where Harvard has battled against such mighty gridiron forces as Dartmouth, Princeton, and Yale. Thousands of Blues and Purples hailed Harvard's generosity. In commenting on the game with Latin, the editor of The Record observed:

"This fifty-seventh game was different in one respect from all previous contests in the long line. This was the Stadium game!

"The distance from Allston to Brighton is not merely a matter of miles in this case; any baseball park and the Harvard Stadium are whole contingents apart when it comes either to playing or to witnessing a football classic in late November.

"This game was played under vastly better conditions. We are deeply grateful to all who co-operated in making this perfect setting possible."

Harvard may feel assured that the students of 1959 in like manner appreciate this privilege.

But aside from the setting, Boston takes pride in the character of the play on the field and in the conduct of the rival cheering sections. Nowhere is the urge to win stronger than it is here — on each side of the field, and on each side of the midfield stripe. Yet the spirit of fair play governs the gridiron, and, in fact, the entire Stadium, from opening kick-off to final whistle.

At Their Own Summit

Unfailing Sportsmanship

Most games in the series have been closely fought. This morning these two neighbors of the Fenway are again represented by formidable, superbly coached squads. Latin presents a well-nigh impenetrable line. Backfield repertoire features a devastating forward-passing duet, Bilodeau to Mulcahy. English has an impressive record, a varied attack designed by Notre Dame's Bill Stewart, and there are some versatile boys to carry out the Blue and Blue strategy.

But regardless of the outcome of the game, this seventy-third annual renewal of this classic will be like all the others in this one most important respect:

Good sportsmanship will prevail . . . throughout the game . . . after the game. This has ever been the Latin-English way! For no interscholastic series can long endure unless those who PLAY the game and those who WATCH the game are ALL GOOD SPORTSMEN.

The outcome? Victory will be relished even more than Mother's classic turkey dinner today . . . But joy in victory or disappointment in defeat will remain within the customary B.L.S.-E. H. S. bounds. Let's hope that on next Monday, as the boys are returning to school, the same sun will be shining over beautiful Avenue Louis Pasteur. What matters most in our traditional rivalry is that every man, player or spectator, will carry out his own assignments well.

Sparked by this game are the usual alumni meetings. Such reunions will afford Headmasters Doyle and Malone opportunities to report progress. The Latins will be gratified to learn that recent B.L.S. expeditions have been scaling new heights in technological studies at leading colleges and universities, notably M. I. T.; and that Latin School has been cited nationally for the number of her alumni who have achieved doctorate degrees.

Next Wednesday evening at English High's annual football dinner, the grads will listen to the reading of a National Academy of Science citation on the same matter of E.H.S. alumni who have earned their doctorate degrees. Head Master Joseph L. Malone will report on the school's recent adoption of the latest methods of expediting the programming of courses and the recording of pupil data.

JOSEPH L. MALONE

At all such alumni reunions there will be the talk of the golden years of football "when we were in school." B.L.S. men will speak of Frank Casey, "Boots" Connelly, Jack Fitzgerald, Bob Rittenburg, Ernie Zissis, Mike Arena, Mike Semans, Paul Mabry, Ed and Barry Rosenthal, and many others.

English High never forgets her "men of honor and achievement," fellows like Danny Brosnahan, Roy Norden, John Sullivan, Louis Tsavaris, Steve McCabe, Norm Chaban, Jesse Johnson, Gerry D'Avolio, Don Gautreau, and Bob LeBlanc, to name a few.

Today's participants will also add their names to the list of the illustrious. For the seventy-third time, the rival schools are sending precision-built elevens into action. As we rise for our National Anthem, let's view the whole picture down there on Harvard's perennial green . . . It's a scene we shall not soon forget.

In Memory of
Colonel Joseph McK. Driscoll of the Class of 1913 of The English High School.
A veteran of both World Wars, he was for many years an instructor in Military Drill at The English High School, training generations of schoolboys for the service they were to render our Country in the great conflicts of our time. Of Colonel Driscoll it may truly be said:

"He served with distinction in peace and in war."

The English High School Association, the Faculty, and

Classmate - Teammate - Friend

Frank J. Comerford

The Junior Class, the Athletic Captains, and the Student Council of The English High School dedicate these pages to the memory of Frank J. Comerford of the Class of 1961.

Frank was a member of the varsity football squad, loved and respected by all his teammates, and popular throughout the school. Fatally injured while playing in a Park League game, he died on Sunday, October 18.

The tidings came as a shock to all of us here at school: to the student body, the head master, and the teaching staff. Sadness settled down, as Alma Mater mourned her son . . .

and the boys of English High, their friend.

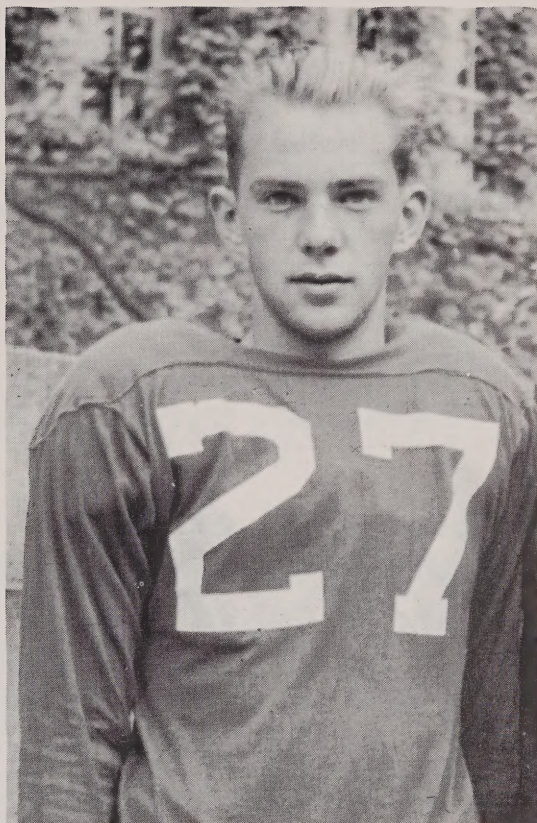

Tributes were heard everywhere . . . spontaneous, sincere tributes.

To Head Master Joseph L. Malone and to the men who coach our teams, it seemed that Frank Comerford was the perfect exemplar of true sportsmanship as the Massachusetts Principals Association gives us the meaning:

"A Real Sportsman is always a gentleman. He who plays fair in the strenuous game of life; who is clean of body, mind, and soul; who associates with honest men; who is courteous to friend and foe; who is too chivalrous to wound the feelings of others, and too sensible to lower his respect for himself; whose hopes and dreams are founded on the rock of determination; who looks you straight in the eye; who meets victory without boasting, defeat without bitterness, and all of life with a smile; who loves his country and his God — is a gentleman."

We beg leave to quote also from the tribute paid to Frank by his good friend and spiritual guide, Fr. Peter F. Hart, C.Y.O. director of Saint William's Parish, Dorchester. Fr. Hart has written of Frank:

"He spent only sixteen short years on this earth, but they were happy years — happy for him and for his family and for all who knew and loved him. His gentle, warm, friendly personality radiated happiness and spread sunshine wherever he went . . .

"We extend to Frank's good parents and devoted sister our heartfelt sympathy in this great loss . . .

"We have lost a good friend and companion. His spirit will always live among us."

Glancing at the Record

SIXTY YEARS AGO

1899—South End Grounds . . . EHS 23 BLS 0 . . . Cloudy day . . . 37 temp. . . . attendance 5,000 . . . 25 and 20-minute periods . . . Only 24 players in game. Out-standing player was Harry Ball, who scored all 23 points for EHS, making three touchdowns, kicking three goals after and one goal from the field. The EHS line had Ernie Alexander and "Tudy" Lewis at ends, Joe Farnsworth and Columbus Harrison as tackles, Capt. George Tracey and Charles Halligan as guards, with Henry Pray at centre. The backfield had Tom Ball at quarter, Harry Ball and John Nichols at halves, with Lyall Hallett and "Dutch" Manahan sharing the fullback position. BLS had Bill Parmalee, Bill Murray, and Tom White at ends, Bob Guild and Bill Gately as tackles, Ed Witherby and Tom Ryder as guards with Tom Winston at centre.—Capt. Dan Hurley was the quarterback with Owen McGrath and Jack Maguire as halfbacks and Harry Phillips as the fullback. "Skip" Sherlock for EHS and Dr. Tom Maguire for BLS were the coaches.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

1909 . . . Huntington Avenue Grounds . . . EHS 0 BLS 0 . . . the fourth of 13 tie games . . . Rainy day, 44 temp. . . . Hard fought game . . . numerous fumbles . . . no damage, however . . . The defensive strength of both teams was great and the field too muddy for speedy backs to circle the ends . . . EHS presented Campbell, R.E.; Higgins, R.T.; Todd, R.G.; Smith, C.; Hands, L.G.; Capt. Gordon Roche, L.T.; "Chick" Plau, L.E.; O'Day, Sawyer and Dolan, Q.B.; Harold Janvrin, R.H.B.; "Bill" Meaney, L.H.B.; Pirce, F.B., and John D. O'Reilly as Coach. BLS had Ayer, L.E.; Hrsom, L.T.; O'Hare, L.G.; Joe Burnett, C. (he's the hatless M.D. on the field right now); Capt. Francis "Doc" Madden, R.G.; Aystin Tate, R.T.; Gorman, R.E.; "Mal" Logan, Q.B.; Henry Halligan and Tom Higgins, L.H.B.; Sam Temple and Fred Murray, R.H.B.; Fred Van Etten, F.B.; with Fred J. O'Brien as Coach.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

1934 . . . Fenway Park . . . BLS 13 EHS 12 . . . Heavy fog first half . . . 42 temp. . . . First game of double-header . . . EHS favored to win . . . Attendance 22,000. BLS used 29 players while 35 played for EHS. 4 12-minute periods. Game was very well played, and only a few penalties. Tully, McLaughlin, Histen and Feinman excelled for BLS—Battles, McPhail, Capt. Munichello and Holland starred for EHS. "Buddy" McLaughlin scored two touchdowns for BLS and passed to Feinman for a point after. Battles and Cuff scored for EHS, but both attempts for the point after failed. This was Coach Ohrenberger's third year at English. BLS Captain was Walter Belekevicz and it was the thirteenth for Coach Charles S. FitzGerald, his standing at time being 6 wins, 6 losses and one tie with English.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

1939 . . . Braves Field . . . BLS 0 EHS 0 . . . Beautiful day . . . 38 temp. . . . EHS was favorite to win by 2 or 3 touchdowns. Not once did EHS have possession of the ball in Latin School territory. Co-Captains Joe Havey and Steve Rowen, together with Ward and Killion made many fine tackles, Rowen stopping touchdown-bound Sullivan twice at midfield. The entire English line, especially Capt. Joe King and Connors, excelled for EHS. Latin was stopped twice within the 20-yard line, and was forced to punt out of danger. Twelve-minute periods were played. The Coaches were FitzGerald and Ohrenberger. The contest between the Coaches is now in favor of Ohrenberger with 8 wins and 7 losses and three ties.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

1944 . . . Harvard Stadium, for first time . . . EHS 13 BLS 6 . . . Windy day . . . 34 temp. . . . Attendance 15,000 . . . Rain on previous two days made field soft, but not muddy. Game was hard-fought, as are all these meetings. Score at end of half was tied at six points. Shields had scored for BLS while Northbridge had made a touchdown for English. The Blue and Blue was the favorite in game by three touchdowns. It appeared that this game would end in another tie. BLS was pushed back to its 8 yard line, and fourth down coming up. Only a few seconds remained. There were seconds enough for English to win. A punt from behind the goal line was blocked by EHS and the alert tackle R. L. Murphy fell on the ball for a touchdown. Bowes rushed the ball over for the thirteenth point. F. Driscoll for EHS and Walter Harwood for BLS were the captains, while Ohrenberger and FitzGerald were the coaches. Ohrenberger up to now has 10 wins and 9 losses with 4 ties in games with FitzGerald coached teams.

TEN YEARS AGO

1949 . . . Harvard Stadium . . . BLS 19 EHS 0 . . . fair day . . . 42 temp. . . . Attendance 23,000. By WINNING this game, BLS became the undefeated Conference Champion, scoring in the first, second, and fourth periods. Each team fumbled frequently, EHS ten times, BLS nine times. Unaccountable, as neither the field nor the ball was slippery. Tom Kent and Jerry Wilson were BLS Co-captains, while Stuart was the EHS Leader. Skinner, Kent, Rittenburg and Seamans shone for BLS, while Fucillo, Kirby, Ruggerio, and Cahill excelled for English. FitzGerald was coaching for his 28th year, while it was Bill Stewart's second year as English Coach, and second straight defeat by identical 19 to 0 score.

FIVE YEARS AGO

1954 . . . Harvard Stadium . . . BLS 20 EHS 7 . . . Cloudy day . . . 41 temp. . . . Attendance 10,000. This game was played on Saturday, November 27th—the first time that any struggle had to be postponed from Thanksgiving Day. Are we becoming "Softies"? The first two periods were scoreless. Score at the end of the third period was 7 to 6, in favor of the Blue and Blue, Chaban and Allen scoring the points for EHS, and Johnson making a touchdown for BLS. In the last period touchdowns by Grossman and DiGangi and points after by Coulon and Powers gave the winning margin to BLS. EHS made 12 first downs to ten for BLS. EHS gained 96 yards by rushing and completed 7 out of 18 passes for 81 yards, while BLS gained 136 yards by rushing, and completed 3 out of 13 passes for 44 yards. EHS was penalized 20 yards, while BLS suffered 32 yards in penalties. BLS Co-captains were Frank Casey and Paul Troiano, being the second time for Casey, while Paul McDonough was EHS leader. Coach "Pep" McCarthy's third year as Coach—third successive victory. It was Coach Stewart's seventh season with English.

LAST YEAR

1958 . . . Harvard Stadium . . . BLS 26 EHS 24 . . . Windy Day . . . 34 temp. . . . Attendance, 18,000 . . . There have been many thrilling games in this old series, but the writer feels certain that the 1958 contest will be remembered as the best game Latin School ever won. Why? Figure it out for yourself. BLS was behind 6 to 0 at end of first period—That was easy—behind 18 to 6 at end of 2nd, which was most discouraging. It was still tragic at the end of the third, with English out front by a 24 to 12 score, with only twelve minutes left to play. It seemed that Latin's record and championship had "gone out the window."

From this point on Tommy Bilodeau thrilled all with his reckless and daring play. He completed only seven passes out of 17 attempts, but good for 269 yards, three touchdowns, and the decisive two-point conversion in what ranks as the finest passing display in the 72-year history of the oldest of all public school rivalries. The fact that EHS made two serious fumbles in the final period cannot take any credit away from Bilodeau, as he took advantage of these lapses. Bob Williams pounced on one fumble on the EHS 14-yard line, which set up a 14-yard sweep by Bilodeau on a fake double reverse.

On the next kickoff, EHS worked the ball down to the 6-yard line and BLS took over with four minutes to play. Bilodeau punted to the 40-yard line, and EHS made its second fumble, Bob Wallace recovering for BLS. Seven plays later, he threw a 36-yard pass to Rosenthal for a touchdown and BLS went ahead to stay. In the third period, Bilodeau threw a pass from behind his own goal line to Mulcahy for a touchdown, the pass-run covering 96 yards. He also passed successfully three times on fourth downs. Co-captains Ernie Zissis and Walter Kelley, Ed Costello and Garibaldi played well for BLS while Dick Areglado and Link Chandler made plenty of trouble for BLS in the first half. EHS made 13 first downs, gained 206 yards rushing, completed 8 out of 12 passes for 108 yards. BLS made 6 first downs and gained 93 yards rushing. EHS also recovered two BLS fumbles. EHS was penalized 40 yards, BLS 30 yards. TD's for EHS were made by Areglado (2), Messina and Kiriakopoulos. Mulcahy made two, and Rosenthal and Bilodeau one each for BLS.
